Monster Expo Edition November 2026
Vol. 48.3

Dave Hill of Saskatoon with his Best in Show winning entry, "To Rally Point"

Best of the Rest, Colin Kunkel, Snowbirds First to Last

Best WWI Subject
Barry Novak, French Armoured Car Mod.1914 (Type ED)

Expo 2026 was another great weekend of excellent models on display and contesting one another. Congratulations must go to the Saskatoon modellers who took many prizes including Best in Show. Come back again, fellas! Seriously, lots of good models inside, and many thanks to the organising crew of Al Magnus, Michel Rozon, and Ted McPherson who handled the judging, results, and webpage very efficiently, and to all the competitors. I don't know how the judges can choose. See for yourselves, inside!

A Word from the President

November 1st, 2026

Hello to all.

As I write this, we have our annual Remembrance Day Displays coming up, first at Wascana Rehabilitation Centre on November 4th, then at the Armouries on November 11th proper. I've already canvassed the membership for Wascana Rehab and we've received a good response but if you would like to participate and haven't said so, please let me know.

Details are as set out in the previous email but, in summary, the Centre is doing things differently this year by having an organised event, bringing residents to the display. The centre will be ready to receive us starting at 12:30 pm on the 4th, with set-up from 1:00 pm to 2:00 pm. The event itself will start at 2:00 pm. The centre has asked us to start by addressing the event, talking about the club, the participating members and a little bit about the display subjects. I'll be saying a few words and other participants are invited to do so but are not required to. The event is expected to wrap up some time between 3:00 pm and 4:00 pm (we'll be following the lead of the centre's Therapy services, here), followed by breakdown and pack up. We're expecting to be all done by 4:00 pm.

Details for the display at the Armouries will be available at the club meeting Friday, November 6th. Currently we're expecting the same routine as in previous years but we'll confirm that for the meeting Friday night. If you're interested in participating, please let me or Chris Donohue know, either at the meeting or by email.

As usual, these are the last of our annual public displays until Spring, 2027.

Last but not least, our permit for the South Leisure Centre, Winter 2027 period has been approved. Dates will be published in the newsletter and the website no later than the end of November.

The previous newsletter mentioned that there have been some changes within the club. We're expecting to bring more information regarding them before the club membership at the November meeting. Nothing ominous but enough change to how we do things that the membership needs to be informed as things progress.

That's it for now.

Take care. Stay Safe!
Michel Rozon

Contrary to what I emailed members this month, Second Chance Surplus will continue trading from their store. They are not moving online – my mistake, sorry. But they are opening a second store next week on Quance St. near Rona. They may have another 300 kits for sale once the current stock is sold. Here we go again...

The October meeting was Terry Osborne's last meeting with RSM. He has moved to Ontario to be closer to family, and personally, I'd like to say that in diminishing his stash over the past couple of years has enabled me to win raffles or buy far too many kits for my own good, and I know many other members feel the same. Thank you, Terry, for your generosity, and best wishes with your family and new modelling club.

Lastly, the Automotive SIG is up for grabs, as Curfew has stepped down from the role. Please let the Executive know if you would be interested in filling this office.

Some works in progress, and a possible project

Chris Donohue is busy on his 1/24 Mosquito, and he may have even finished it by now. The McDonald's coffee cup and hands are included for reference to it size. The horizontal tailsurfaces are as large as a 1/72 Spitfire wingspan. It will be wall-mounted and finished as a nightfighter, and will surely be a point of discussion in his home. It comes complete with two moustachioed RAF types.

Greg & Gene caught up with Brian McConnell on a recent visit to Calgary. He seem to be doing well, with a huge growing collection to admire.

I know it's colourized, but note the maple leaf on the fuselage of this Fokker DVII. I'm informed by CAHS Regina the RCAF had two Squadrons of Fokkers in 1919 which were used for pilot training.. Now, that's what I call a modelling challenge. Details in a book, Those Canadian Fokkers, by Edward P. Soye.

I'm told it's a J4F Gosling. More details next month..

OCTOBER RSM 2026 Displays

Themes: Scary Shit (Monsters and Mayhem, Spooks, Goblins, etc.), WWII - Africa / Middle East (any subject), Racing (non-automotive, i.e.: aircraft/boats, etc.)

As Napoleon fought in Nth. Africa, Ian Scholfield had a mostly Napoleonic collection this month. Not as scary as they were in real life! The French figures are 5-6yrs old. He used Howard Hues paints. 18mm Imperial French Chasseurs à Cheval 14th Regt. Ca. 1808.

15mm Imperial Guard Foot Artillery, c.1808

18mm French Napoleon Light Infantry, c.1808, with the 1st Battalion Regimental flag

And a Roman Legion from the 1stCent.A.D. The figures are 25 years old.

Michael Evans had a scary trio with his Comet Models Dalek,

An Attack by a 50ft Woman!

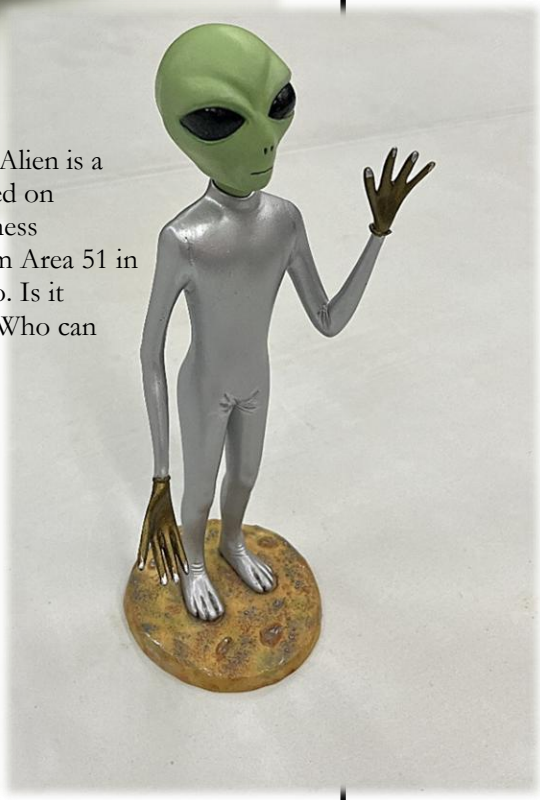

And a UFO/ Zombie Apocalypse diorama. Pegasus models figures, Miniart cattle, zombies by Masterbox, Tamiya motorbike, and various Italeri bits.

Tim Hayes landed his Polar Lights' C-57D Space cruiser from the movie, Forbidden Planet. He said it was a precisely fitting kit, cool in a diorama. He added lighting, which he found out to be very polarity sensitive.

Tim's friendly 1/6 Alien is a Lindberg kit, based on accurate eyewitness testimony from Area 51 in New Mexico. Is it accurate? Who can say?

Conversely, Keegan Duck's man-eating Killer Croc is a vicious monster from DC Comics. Resin, except for the FDM base. Inks & acrylic paint were used, with rust over pipes, and a moss effect. Keegan used resin for the first time to pour the sewer water. For a finishing touch, the drool is Uhu glue.

Ted McPherson brought a sci-fi anthology of monsters and an alien future. His finished Aoshima Godzilla, which I think Ted said was a female with translucent blue dorsal fins, vive la différence , and the instructions were scary. No scale is available.

Mars is still Attacking at 1/8 scale, from Mobius.

And a Spice Harvester from Dune. No scale specified by Meng. Nice patina finish on this and Godzilla.

Jack Elkington brought his Tamiya 1/48 Spitfire Mk.Vc Trop, as used in North Africa by 417 Sqn. RCAF. The Vc was converted from a Mk.Vb by utilizing a "C": wing, which was designed for different armament configurations and loads.

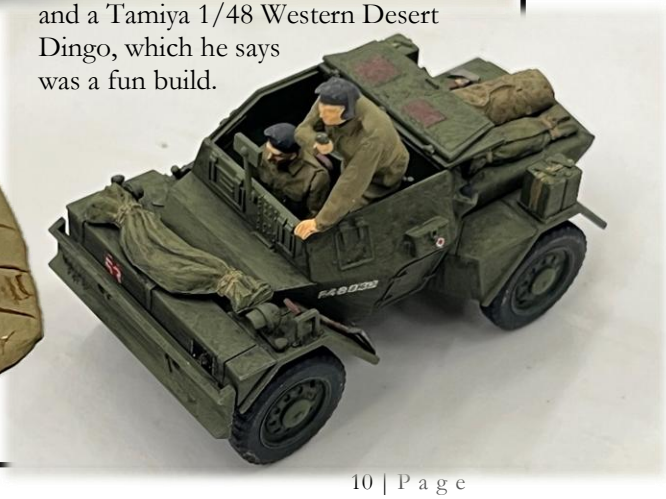

Will Woods brought his Douglas Bader diorama, a Hurricane Mk. II. RAF No.242 "Canadian" Sqn, at RAF Coltishall, 1940. He used Above & Below decals.

Dave Duguid brought his Matchbox 1/76 Sd-Kfz 124 Wespe diorama, and a Tamiya 1/48 Western Desert Dingo, which he says was a fun build.

Dave also deployed his scratchbuilt Sherman Beach Armoured Recovery Vehicle (BARV), as used on D-Day. This was a recovery vehicle. an armoured tow-truck. British-built and crewed by the Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers (REME) Only 50 or 60 were built. Scratchbuilt from tracks up. It had a unique crew if 5: commander, driver, 2 mechanics, 1diver.

Sylvain Rheault brought what looked like the entire British 8th Army but were 1/350 gaming pieces representing just some units. All models are 1/350 and come from GHQ, and Heroics & Ros. Different camouflage is used to identify the units on gaming tables. Enough to play for the rest of his life, he said.

Below, Lee & Cruiser Tank Regt. (late)

Below, Cruiser, Churchill & Matilda Tanks

Below, Cruiser, Churchill & Matilda Tanks

Below, an 8th Army Infantry tn. Basically, a platoon on a tray.

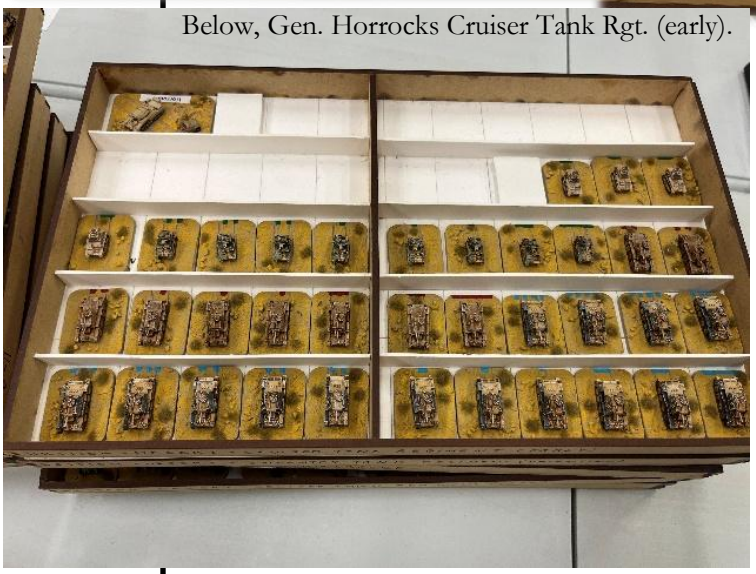

Below, Montgomery and his van.

Above, Gens. Ritchie & Montgomery, & British artillery & mortars.

Below, Gen. Horrocks Cruiser Tank Rgt. (early).

Below, Transport, SAS & LRDG

Below, Grant & Sherman Tanks

Right, Quads & Universal carriers.

New member, Ivan Marsden, displayed figures from Games Workshop.

Flayed Ones, from Warhammer 40,000. (so named as Flayed Ones are afflicted by the Flayer Virus, causing them to compulsively strip the flesh from their victims and drape it over their metallic bodies). Lovely.

Warhammer 40,000 Terran Space Marines (StarCraft Miniatures) from Archon Studios

Apologies for not having pictures of his Hill Tribe Bandit of Lord of the Rings from Games Workshop, nor a Cupboard Mimic from Zealot.

OCTOBER 2026 Primer Table

Phil Jeffreys brought a racing stable: Supermarine S-6B Hydroplane Racer from Eastern Express (The bottom of the box is made from the box top of a Yak-3. They must have been short of cardboard that week).

P-51D Red Baron [Reno] Unlimited Racer from High Planes Models. An Australian maker, it has lots of flash to remove.

Macchi Castoldi MC72 Racer from Delta 2. The airspeed record holder in 1934, it had radiators covering almost all of the wings, struts, & floats.

And an almost-scary CC&F Goblin MK.I from Special Hobby.

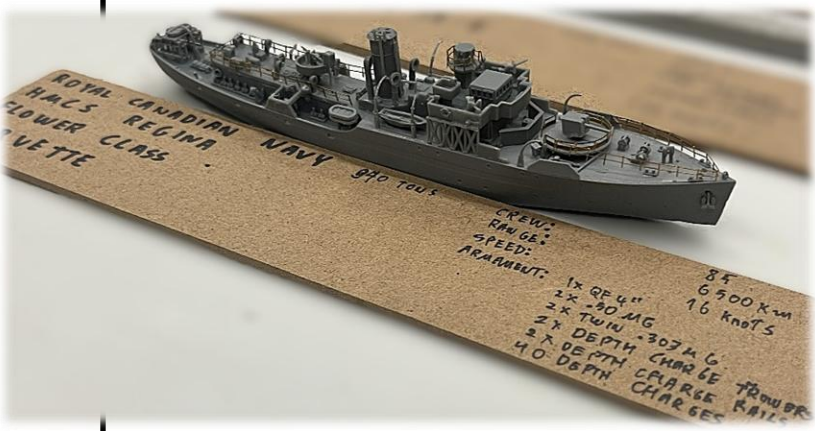

Brian Miller had a package of 3D-printed panzer track links. Loads of detail, with lots of cleaning.

Sylvain presented a number of 1/350 wargaming backyard convoy ships in the works: The Skytrex ships are 3D resin prints.

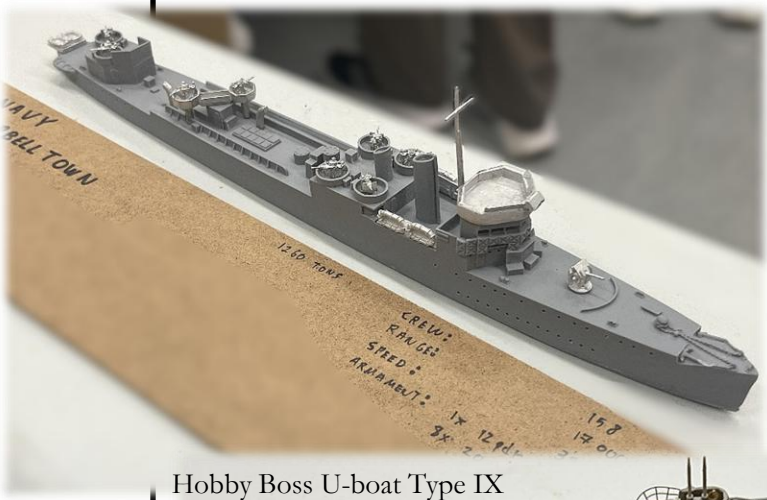

Mirage Hobby HMCS Regina, which had lots of assembly errors in the instructions.

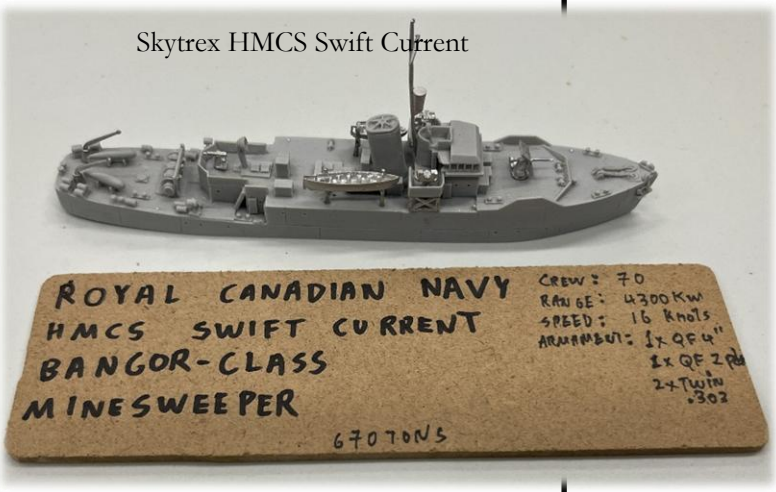

Skytrex HMCS Waskesiu

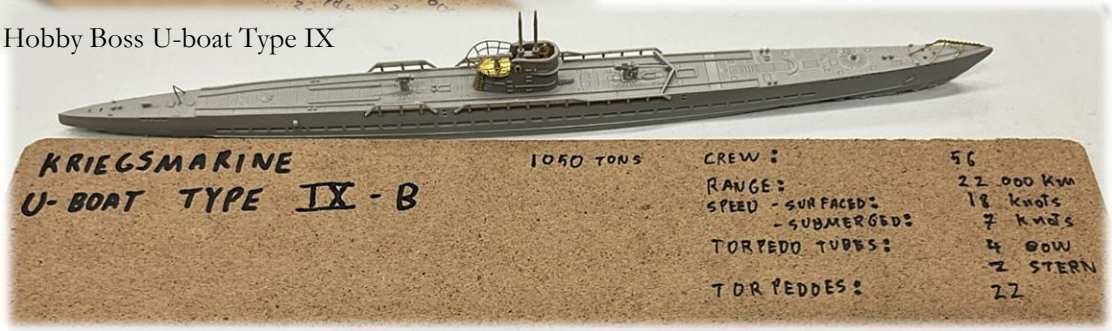

Skytrex HMS Campbelltown, as rebuilt for the St. Nazaire raid

Skytrex HMCS Swift Current

Hobby Boss U-boat Type IX

Lastly, the enormous hand of Daniel Glaeske, holding a tiny, well-detailed 1/700 UH-60 Helicopter from a forthcoming USS Ticonderoga
